

I am not in favor of this rule change. This change will cause interference on the ham radio bands. Ham radio operators have rules they must abide by to avoid interfering with government, private, and business uses of the air waves. I feel that the FCC should also keep the rules to also protect the ham radio operators.